

ROOSEVELT BLOWS IN

And Now the Windy City is Filled With Hot Air and Loud Talk.

TIM WOODRUFF A DESERTER.

Deposed Brooklyn Boss Shies
Castor in Alongside War
Helmet of Colonel.

Chicago, Ill., June 17.—Another day of caucuses, conferences and counting of delegates brought no solution to the presidential tangle confronting the Republican national convention. The total of contests passed upon was 254. Of these Taft was given 235 and Roosevelt 19. In Texas and California Taft was contesting and his 26 delegates in Texas and 2 in California were seated, seemingly without good cause.

During Sunday the city rang with rumors that a break had come and that a stampede of southern delegates to Col. Roosevelt had begun. The Roosevelt headquarters made public letters bearing the names of five delegates from Georgia and five from Mississippi heretofore counted solidly in the Taft column, declaring themselves for Colonel Roosevelt as the only hope of the party.

Earlier in the day Timothy Woodruff, of New York, announced that he had given Col. Roosevelt assurance of his support.

These statements for a time threw the Taft headquarters into something of a panic. Members of the Georgia and Mississippi delegations hastily summoned and there was a return of composure when it was learned that four of the five Georgia delegates who had supposedly signed the letter to Col. Roosevelt had not yet reached the city. Later the Taft headquarters claimed to have a telegram from these delegates denying that they had deserted the President.

L. R. Moseley, national committee man from Mississippi and chairman of the state delegation, declared that two delegates from that state had been expected to disregard their instructions and vote for Col. Roosevelt. He did not believe any more would change.

TWO DEFECTIONS.

After these conferences the Taft managers issued a statement denying the Roosevelt claims of accessions and asserting that only Charles Banks one of the negro delegates from Mississippi, and Timothy Woodruff, of Brooklyn, had deserted to the Colonel.

Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt campaign manager, was jubilant over the day's events.

"We've got them coming," he exclaimed. "We have lots more of them to tell you about, but we don't want too much excitement in one day. To-morrow we will give you more news of Taft delegates coming over to our side."

"The situation to night is absolutely unchanged," said Mr. McKinley, director of the Taft headquarters. "Mr. Roosevelt has been sending for delegates who are opposed to his nomination and has endeavored to persuade them to come over to his standard. This work has been a failure, although claims have been made all day to the contrary."

Colonel Roosevelt spent a happy day in the midst of the turmoil of the approaching convention. He went to church during the morning, took a motor ride during the afternoon and up to a late hour at night was holding a "council of war" with his "general staff" of advisers and supporters.

Licenses Ready.

County Clerks will be prepared to issue licenses to hunters under the new Kentucky game and fish law as soon as they receive license blanks, which will be within a few days.

B. M. A. LECTURES JULY 1

Under the auspices of the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association there will be a lecture in the City Council Chamber Monday, July 1st, at 10:00 a. m. and 1:00 p. m., on the two most important subjects that are of interest to the farmers, namely: "Weeds and how to destroy them." "Insects detrimental and beneficial." The special committee on Agriculture composed of some twenty-eight farmers with only six active members met in the office of the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association Saturday, June 15th, at 10:00 a. m., and selected the two above named subjects for the speaker to discuss, and appointed each one present to make himself a committee of one to bring as many new members or prospective members to the next Committee meeting Saturday, June 29th, to complete arrangements for July 1st. meeting.

We would like for each farmer in the county to attend these lectures which will be very beneficial, and will reward the Agricultural Department of the State, which is the only compensation they ask by being present and trying to secure knowledge that will be of use to them on the farm.

We also want it understood that these meetings are for the farmers and absolutely free of cost, and, that it is our desire to have the farmers discuss at these meetings things that are of importance to them personally and that they are free to ask any question they might wish to ask.

Any farmer who is desirous of becoming an active member of this committee and who will devote a few minutes of his time each week in soliciting new members and advancing the scientific farming methods, may secure membership by applying to the secretary of the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association.

It is the intention of the Association at large, and of each individual, to extend a hearty welcome to all who are concerned in this work and would like for every one coming into Hopkinsville to make the office of the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association their headquarters.

Kindly remember the date and the hour and tell your neighbor, that he may partake of the opportunity that is now offered.

COLORED BOY IS DROWNED

John Henry Alexander, Jr.,
Seized With Cramps While Swimming In River.

QUICKLY SANK TO HIS DEATH

He Had Been In The Water For Several Hours During The Day.

John Henry Alexander, Jr., aged 20, a son of the well known colored man of the same name, was drowned at the colored bathing resort on Little River Sunday afternoon. Alexander was a good swimmer and had been much of the time during the day in the water. Other colored boys and young men were in the water and a good many spectators were on the bank. Suddenly when in deep water Alexander was taken with cramps and became helpless. A smaller boy who attempted to rescue him was pulled under and became strangled but finally freed himself from the drowning man. The accident was reported at Edgewater Park, half a mile further down the stream, and some young men went up the river in a boat and Will Owen, a clerk in the Louisville & Nashville Railroad office, dived and brought the body to the surface. This is the fourth fatal accident that has occurred at that place within the last three weeks. On the last Sunday in May two small colored boys who could not swim went in the water and were drowned. They were sons of Rev. C. T. Vaughn and Peter Boyd. Ten days ago Grover Dawson, aged 16, lost his life, being unable to swim.

The corner held an inquest over the dead body of Alexander Sunday afternoon shortly after it was recovered.

Locates In Hartford.

Mr. Henry J. Stites, who is at Yale, last week successfully passed his examinations and the degree of LL. D. will be conferred upon him at the graduating exercises to be held this week. This makes the second degree Mr. Stites has taken at Yale, the first being A. B. He has accepted a position in the law department of the Traveler's Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., and will assume his duties there on Monday, June 24.

Mr. Stites is one of the brightest, most promising young men Hopkinsville has given to other states.

IN FAVOR OF BITHULITHIC

Council Expresses A Preference For Streets Seen In Nashville.

ABOUT 12,500 SQUARE YARDS

To Be Built On Main And Ninth Streets During The Next 90 Days.

The City Council met in special session Friday night to consider improved streets. By a unanimous vote the council decided to pass an ordinance Monday night asking for bids on bithulithic streets on 12,500 square yards on Main and Ninth streets, the city to pay half and the property owners the rest, the city paying for all intersections. The Southern Bithulithic Co., submitted a proposition guaranteeing that the cost would not exceed $1.50 a square yard.

City Attorney Southall was directed to prepare the necessary ordinance and an adjourned meeting was held last night.

Bids will be received and opened before the end of the month.

HUNTERS' LICENSES

Are Due Under the New State Law.

Frankfort, June 15.—J. Quincy Ward, the executive agent under the Game and Fish Commission, is preparing to send out to all County Clerks the necessary blanks for issuing licenses to hunters under the new law. Kentucky hunters must pay a license of $1, and it is expected that will bring in a revenue of anywhere from $15,000 to $30,000 a year, which will be used to pay the expenses of the commission, including game wardens and other officials.

The licenses are due in May each year, but as the law did not become effective till June 10 this year the blanks could not be sent out earlier than June. There is no license required for fishermen.

PIONEERS IN GREAT MOVE

Christian and Mason Counties
First To Try Consolidated Schools.

BLAZING WAY OF PROGRESS

Description of The School Just Established In Mason County.

The consolidated school at Elmo in this county will be one of the very first in Kentucky. One other county in the state is ahead of Christian in this movement. Mason county a short while ago dedicated a $32,000 rural schoolhouse at Mayslick, and another school of similar character is being established at Minerva.

John B. McFerran, chairman of the Educational Committee of the Louisville Commercial Club, and leader in the State-wide campaign for better schools, was one of the guests of the Mason county school patrons at a "function" in their new schoolhouse a few days ago. On his return from Mayslick he described his visit as one of the memorable occasions of his life.

"I saw far and away the best county schoolhouse that I have yet found in Kentucky," said Mr. McFerran. "In fact, when I looked at that splendid building situated on a beautiful plot of ten acres of ground I thought for a moment I was in Northern Indiana. When on a rainy night I saw the large auditorium crowded until there was not standing room, with even the halls well filled, my heart was rejoiced beyond measure, for here was a rural school and a school spirit among the people."

"The building is up-to-date in heating and ventilation, and provision has been made in the plan for instruction in agriculture, manual training and domestic science. The school is running seven wagons, and it will have to add two more with the coming term."

"This is not all of the activity in school matters in Mason county. They are adding another school of high character at Minerva. There is a great school spirit in this district. Patrons from adjoining districts formed a stock company and purchased a wagon to transport their children to this high school. The wagon route is eleven miles long. Some of the pupils therefore ride twenty-two miles to get to and from school. Of course this route is too long, but it demonstrates the grit of the people and their children. 'Where there's a will there's a way.'"

"The great progress in Mason county schools is largely due to the sensible activities of the county superintendent, Miss Jessie O. Yancey. She does not know how to quit, and she has fortunately been most ably assisted by wide-awake and capable business men and first class citizens."

Consolidated schools have been tried with great success in other states and an experiment will make them popular in Kentucky. The first rural free delivery route was tried as an experiment in Carroll County, Md., a few years ago. Now every progressive community feels that it must have free delivery.

Christian county already has many good roads and others will follow to meet the demands.

All honor to the educational pioneers who have blazed the way in Western Kentucky. In this as in other matters Christian county will be looked to as a leader and it will not be long before her example will be imitated.

Sheriff Shot.

Sheriff Dan Scott, of Fayette county, was shot but not seriously wounded on the streets of Lexington by Patrolman Ben McCann. The men had previously figured in a personal encounter.

MISS STARLING'S LETTER

Nan, Siam, Feb. 24, 1912.—We are having the coldest weather of the season, and at a time when usually the hot weather is beginning. Yesterday morning the thermometer was 54, and by noon, 87; and we have had this great a range for several days. For my part, I am very well content, and don't care how long the hot weather is postponed.

Last Monday morning, we were delighted with the news that Dr. Kerr, of Chiang Mai, was in town; and the Palmers had us all in to dinner that evening, to meet him. Beside our missionaries, Capt. Springer, of the gendarmerie (a Dane), and Dr. Kerr were the only guests. We had a most elaborate dinner—English style, which I abominate. It ran something like this: 1st course—Boullion and a toasted cracker, with meat paste on it. 2nd course—Salmon patties, rolls. 3rd course—Salad. 4th course—Cold beef, creamed potatoes, gravy. 5th course—Duck with stuffing, macaroni, sweet potatoes. 6th course—Nut pudding, hard sauce, candies, coffee. There were some other things that I can't remember, but the latter half of a meal like this is distressing to me.

After supper, we had a delightful evening of music. I was down there again Wednesday evening to supper (Wednesday is their regular evening for having Miss Van Vranken and myself), and there was more music. Then Thursday night I went down to develop Kodak pictures with Mr. McCluskey, and we got some very good ones, which I will send you later. Yesterday afternoon was our tennis day, and we had some good games, with tea afterwards. Over here, we don't have supper on tennis evenings, but plenty of sandwiches and cake, to take the place of supper, and it is very pleasant.

I suppose I wrote you about a man in Chiang Mai cutting open the single tube of my bicycle, and trying to put an inner tube inside, and ruining the tube, so that I have not been able to use my wheel for almost a year. I had to send to America for a new tube. The tube has just come and my wheel has been fixed up, and I am now using it again. It is one of the greatest delights I have out here. Miss Van Vranken and I had a long ride the other afternoon, exploring the city. We

ROUGH RIDER IN SADDLE

Riding Down Every Obstacle That Gets In His Way.

A PARTY SPLIT CERTAIN.

Opposing Sides No Longer Speak One To The Other.

Chicago, Ill., June 17.—Theodore Roosevelt is running wild on the bases today.

He has his opponents guessing and badly rattled. Unless they settle down within the next twenty-four hours, Roosevelt will be nominated on the first ballot. Undoubtedly the presence of the Rough Rider has inspired his followers to deeds of daring and they are confident that the big fight is as good as over.

The Taft men are fighting hard to hold their advantage and they assert that they haven't lost enough ground to hurt. It seems however, that Taft is weaker in New York than generally believed. There are rumors that New York will give Roosevelt as many as thirty votes. If it does, then the fight is over as the southern delegates are wobbling. The situation here almost beggars description if one considers it merely as a political gathering. The bitter feeling is terrific. Neither side will have anything to do with the other.

The situation is a gloomy one for the president's forces, as there have been reports of defections from his delegates in Georgia, Mississippi, Virginia, New York and other states. However, these reports were discounted by statements issued by the Taft side.

There is yet an effort to break in to the Indiana Roosevelt votes.

It is learned definitely that the big fight will come when the temporary roll is read Tuesday, when the Roosevelt men will offer a substitute. If it is adopted, the convention will be over as far as the choice for the presidency is concerned.

A great fear has arisen in the Taft column by the rumor that there will be a field combination to elect a La-Follette man Chairman at Chicago. Unless Taft has a majority over all, a game of politics may make the President's choice "Root hog or die."

Russellville is anxious to get in line with other cities in the use of oil to settle the dust nuisance. The Times makes it the subject of its leading editorial from which this extract is taken: "The thing is intolerable and unbearable. It breeds disease. It creates discomfort. It damages property. It discredits the town. In short and in fine, it is a nuisance per se. People in Russellville pay an annual ad valorem tax of seventy-five cents on the hundred. There are other sources of municipal revenue. A council is chosen to serve the public. It is up to them to do away with this common nuisance."

Trigg School Census.

Supt. Levi Cunningham has completed the compilation of the school census of the county as reported by the trustees of the different school districts of the county, which shows that there are 4,863 children in the county of school age. Of this number 3,646 are white, 1,890 boys and 1,756 girls. There are 1,217 negro children, 608 boys and 609 girls.—Cadiz Record.

Downs Jagoe.

Miss Mary C. Jagoe, of Cadiz, and Mr. Clyde Downs, of Murray, were married in Cadiz June 12. Among the Hopkinsville people who attended were: Misses Lucile Ellis, Mary and Nell Tandy, and Messrs. W. J. Glover, Alvin Clark, and Tot Kuykendall.

RUSSIA HOLDS FIRST PLACE

That Country Is Now the Greatest Wheat Producer, With United States Second.

In the last twenty-five years great changes have taken place in the world's production of wheat. In Europe the land devoted to it has increased over one-fourth; in the rest of the world it has doubled.

In 1870 France was at the head of the wheat producers, followed by the United States, India, Russia, Germany, etc.

Today Russia holds the first place; the United States is still second, while France is third. Fourth place is held by the Argentine Republic, which has increased its production ten times; Canada and Italy follow.

In amount produced per acre the smaller countries have their turn. Holland headed the list in 1879, followed by Denmark, England, Norway, Belgium, Sweden, France. Today the order is Denmark, Holland, Belgium, England, Germany, Sweden, Norway, Canada, France, Japan.

One encouraging feature of these statistics is that the maximum production per acre has increased more than 50 per cent.

QUICK RETORT CAUSES WOE

And Now Kentucky Husband Is Busy Explaining the Joke to His Wife.

In Louisville a young husband is doing everything in his power to make his young wife understand that a remark he made the other evening was a joke. But wifey is still pouting and hubby has taken a solemn resolve never to speak before he thinks.

A number of friends were calling on the newly married pair when the young wife in question in the course of conversation remarked:

"Flat life is new to me, and I'm just sick for some flowers."

"Sweetheart, I know a way you can get a whole lot of them," flashed back the husband.

"How?" asked the wife with interest.

"Die." And since then the husband has been bringing home great bunches of flowers and innumerable boxes of candy.—Louisville Times.

FAVOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Woman suffrage in England is advocated not only by the Women's Social and Political union, with a comparatively small membership, but also by the Conservative and Unionist Women's Franchise association, the Liberal suffragists of the Women's Liberal federation, which now numbers over 135,000; the People's Suffrage federation, which has over four hundred societies and branches; the suffragists of the Labor party, of which the membership is over one million. Other bodies which have supported the suffrage are the British Women's Temperance association, numbering 110,000 members; the Scottish Union of the same, with its 42,000 members, and the Women's Co-operative Guild.

DID HE GET AN ANSWER?

A writer in the Electrical Review thinks that electrical companies should attach to business letters a "sticker" defining electrical terms, such as watt, ampere, volt, kilowatt load, factor, etc. This brings to mind a paragraph in another journal about a telephone subscriber who called up "Information" to ask how many inches there are in a meter. To information's inquiry, "Haven't you got a dictionary that you could consult?" came the answer, "Yes, but it's less trouble to ask you."

BELGIANS FLOCK TO THE CITIES.

The population of Belgium increased 10.9 per cent. in the ten years, 1900-1910, and showed the same drift from country to city observable in other nations. More than one-fifth of the population is now concentrated in the four towns of Brussels, Antwerp, Ghent and Liege.

TO TAKE PLACE OF COTTON

Common Nettle Found to Have Valuable Fibers That Make Lustrous White Yarn.

The search for a cotton substitute has been going in Europe for a long time, and many experiments have been made with the common nettle, which has been a promising plant on account of the strength of its fiber and its ready growth wild under the most discouraging conditions, with a large yield per acre.

The great difficulty has been in separating the fiber from the woody stem. In a method of treatment that has been worked out in the last two or three years the dried nettle stems are boiled about an hour in dilute soda lye, and the loosened fibers are then separated in a machine with revolving brushes.

The material is then subjected to a number of alternate boilings in dilute lye and thorough washings, both under high pressure.

The product is a mass of yellowish fibers free from gum, that can be bleached, combed and spun into lustrous white yarn. This is claimed to have the smoothness and softness of flax, with a strength even greater than that of hemp.

The yarn has been made into brilliant damask, and can be used—alone or with other threads—for upholstery, ribbons and a variety of fabrics.—Chicago Tribune.

FOUND ANCIENT RELIC.

While one of the gardeners in Broomhall gardens was digging a trench recently, says the London Globe, he came upon an ancient sand bed. On further excavations being made for the purpose of securing sand for gardening purposes, a huge bone was discovered. The bone is believed to be one of the vertebrae of a whale or other great sea monster. If that be so, the waters of the Firth of Forth must have extended at least a quarter of a mile farther inland at some very remote period. The osseous find was deposited in Lord Elgin's museum at Broomhall.

EACH MAN HIS LIFE ENGINE.

As the engine is the iron expression of the engineer's purpose, and the smoking, steaming embodiment of the engineer's soul, so character is both the engineer and his engine, it is the man and his instrument which he uses to draw along his train of influence through the world. Out of a great deal of material, lying loose about him, every man makes his life engine, and it generally represents him and embodies him and embodies his ideas of life.—Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus.

SIMPLICITY.

Simplicity is the elimination of the non-essential in all things. It reduces life to its minimum of real needs; raises it to its maximum of powers. Simplicity means the survival—not of the fittest, but of the best. In morals it kills the weeds of vice and weakness so that the flowers of virtue and strength may have room to grow. Simplicity cuts off waste and intensifies concentration. It converts flickering torches into searchlights.—From "Self-Control," by William George Jordan.

Too Busy to Run.
Anne was not very well, and found walking with her vigorous mother hard work. Mamma, however, was pressed for time, and presently hurrying ahead, called to the struggling, panting little girl to run. From a little distance behind her came the breathless protest: "I can't run, mother. You'll just have to wait for me. I'm so busy walking that I can't run."

A Lead Pencil Danger.
In the United States the danger of putting pencils in the mouth has long been recognized, and in all the schools every precaution is taken to prevent the interchange of pencils as well as the moistening of them with the lips. A great many children and even their elders, who ought to know better, persist in putting pencils in their mouths regardless of the risk they run.

TAKING IT TO THE PEOPLE

A GREAT deal is being said nowadays thruout this country about taking public problems direct to the people. This is what President Taft and Col. Roosevelt have been doing lately, and what all those interested in great public questions must do more and more as the years go by.

In the forthcoming Chautauqua here many important problems will be discussed. It is impossible for all the people in the United States to attend any one Chautauqua. The Chautauqua must be taken to the people eventually in nearly every county of the land where the population warrants it. The Redpath Bureau under whose direction the Chautauqua in this county is being given this year, is the greatest factor in the world today in this work of carrying a Chautauqua Program to the people. More than 250 Chautauquas are operated under Redpath management and the number is rapidly increasing.

Send word to all your friends to come to our forthcoming Chautauqua. Especially if they have never before attended a Chautauqua program, it will be a revelation to them.

DR. NK W. GUNSAULUS, of Central Church,
 Chicago and president of Armour
 Institute of Technology, often referred to as the world's greatest preacher, says: "The chautauquas have come a great people's unity. They are among the great feeders for our college and universities". He further states that ten per cent of students in the institution of which he is president, Armour Institute, owe their presence to the chautauqua influence."

ROPE IN SUNDAY CLOTHES

Fibers Sometimes Get There From Twine Around the Wool, Despite Every Precaution.

People who have had the experience of pulling fibers of rope out of their Sunday clothes will probably be relieved to know that the cloth maker was not trying to spread his wool over an unreasonably large territory by the addition of jute or hemp. The fact is that the bits got into the wool when the wool was bundled up and came from the jute or sisal twine with which it was tied.

Some of the fibers of twine made of jute or sisal become loose and detached from the parent body during shipment and work their way into the wool. The manufacturers find it impossible to get these odd fibers out of the wool in the scouring process, and the result is that they go through the carding or combing machines, are spun into yarn or thread, get into the material for one's clothes, and not until that point is reached begin to work their way out of the cloth. If they are plainly visible on the surface of the cloth of course they can be removed at once, but sometimes they are so deeply embedded in the fabric that it takes a long time for them to come to the surface. Then it looks as if the spinner had expanded his supply of wool
 by using hemp.

For this reason twine made of paper is being manufactured for wool growers to tie up their product. This twine is just as strong as the old kinds, has a perfectly smooth surface, thus offering no opportunity for loose bits to break off and become embedded in the wool; is light in weight and is cheaper in addition.

The Italian treatment.
 The Italians resort to a very simple method when they wish to obliterate the injurious effects of salt air and sunshine after a visit to their villas, the shore of the Adriatic, the Tyrrhenian sea or the lakes. They bathe the face with the white of an egg, well beaten, let it dry on the skin and rinse it off in soft water after fifteen minutes. The treatment is repeated three or four times, and always at night just before retiring.

Constipation causes headache, in-

Champ Clark's Poem.

Here is a poem written by Congressman Champ Clark thirty years ago. He was principal of a Clarksville, Mo., school and was asked by Miss Lizzie B. OLD MAIDS.

The silly rabble ridicule
And foolishly upbraid
The sweetest creature in the world—
The much-abused Old Maid.
Most everybody jibes and jeers—
Has something hard to say,
As if these ladies elderly
Had done a crime some way.
What have they done—the dear old things—
That men should hate them so?
Nothing, except they dare to live
And wave—without a beau!
When models ask that should take
The toilsome place of wife,
And give their independence up
In slavery for life—
They have common sense and pluck
To boldly answer No.
And that is the reason why
Old maids are hated so.
And still they are the primmest,
The nicest and the neatest,
And everything about them
Is the cutest and the sweetest.
Then honor to the dear old maids!
Though lonely be their lives;
Perhaps to God they're just as dear
As many wedded wives.
And, girls, unless your sweethearts be Industrious, honest, staid,
I hope that each of you will be
The oldest sort of Maid.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

MISS STARLING'S LETTER.

are going out this morning to try and get some pictures of some religious ceremonies that are going on. Processions from all the temples in the city are going to the largest of all the temples, to make offerings and have a great feast. All over the city we have seen floats made in the shape of elephants, boats, temples, etc. It is the greatest festival of the year.

I hope that Dr. Taylor will be able to come to Hopkinsville, before he returns to Laos. I am sure you will like him. I wish you might meet Mrs. Taylor, too, but I suppose there is no chance of that, as they are in the West.

It was very kind in Mrs. Wood to return the postage on that lace. Mrs. Mason and I have paid the postage on all the lace we have sent out, and though we were glad to do it, to help the school, of course it has amounted to a great deal.

We are having lovely roses now, though none of them over here are fine varieties. The other day, Capt. Springer sent Mrs. Peoples a lot of flower seed—18 different varieties—and she gave them to me; so I am going to try interesting the girls in raising flowers this year, and next year try gardening, as we have a good deal of room here. I am so anxious to get to building. I am keeping well; there is some fever among the girls, but none of it is serious; and nothing like what we have in Chiang Mai. I suppose you will be enjoying spring weather, by the time this reaches you.

WHEAT HARVEST.

Farmers Began Cutting Crop Last Week.

Wheat harvest began over the county last week and considerable grain is already in the shock. The crop as a whole is not a very promising one, though there are some very good fields. The hard winter and wet spring injured the wheat, much of it on the high lands being killed by the freezes and many acres on the low lands being drowned out. While there is much "come out" in the crop ordinarily, it will not be up to the average in this county, some estimating only 75 per cent of a crop.

It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice, and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at all druggists.

FOLLOWING THE SKY LINE IN THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS

1—Sky Line Drive, Canon City, Colo., Showing Upper Part of the Arkansas Valley, and a Portion of the Rocky Mountain Range. This Drive is Built Along a "Hog-Back," or High Ridge, of the Foothills.

2—Crystal Park Auto Road, Overlooking Colorado Springs in the Pike's Peak Region.

3—Penetrating the Mountain Fastnesses From Boulder, Colorado.

Following the skyline in an automobile in the Rocky mountains of Colorado is a thrilling pastime. On some of these highways the traveler can "cruise" among the rim-rocks at altitudes which present ever changing vistas of snow-capped summits, dizzy abysses and endless plains.

There are many such drives in Colorado, but the Skyline drive, completed recently at Canon City, is one of the finest in the state.

The number of such mountain boulevards is increasing. Both state and county authorities are active in the building of good roads, and each year new areas of mountain wilderness are being added to the territory which is accessible to the automobile tourist.

From almost any point along the eastern foothills, from Colorado Springs, Palmer Lake, Denver, Mor-

Buena Vista and Leadville, the latter being the great mining camp of world-wide fame, 10,190 feet above sea level; thence over Tennessee Pass and down through the wonderful canyons of the Eagle and Grand rivers to Glenwood Springs.

At Glenwood the traveler will find a resort that is not excelled in Europe. The waters of the springs are curative and the best of hotel acrison, Golden, Boulder, Longmont, Loveland, and Fort Collins, the tourist can quickly penetrate with an automobile the mountain fastnesses and view grand and picturesque scenery which is not surpassed in the world. In the Pike Peak's region in the vicinity of Colorado Springs and Manitou, and in Estes Park in the Long's Peak region, are some of the finest automobile roads in the world. The scenery in these sections inspires the traveler with the "See America First" spirit, and if he be one who has visited the mountain resorts of the Old World, he is sure to declare that he has seen nothing to equal the grandeur of the Rocky mountains of his own native America.

Long's Peak From Deer Mountain Drive, in Estes Park, Colo.

The trip from Denver to Estes Park and return can be made easily in a day in an auto, but to exhaust the scenic possibilities of the roads through the park and its environs requires weeks of time.

But this is only a beginning. From Colorado Springs one can travel westward into the very heart of the Rockies by way of Ute Pass to Cascade, Green Mountain Falls, Hartzel, commodations can be had. In fact, all along this route the hotel accommodations are of the best.

From Glenwood Springs the way leads into the Grand valley to Grand Junction in the heart of the fruit section on the Western Slope.

From Grand Junction, by way of Dragon and Vernal, the road is clear to Salt Lake City, Utah. A southerly route through Utah takes the traveler to Arizona and the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river. By turning north before reaching Glenwood Springs one can reach Meeker, Steamboat Springs and the vast and practically undeveloped empire of northwestern Colorado.

The state highway commission is planning great circle routes through the scenic wonderland, and as they are completed new opportunities will be created for the automobile tourist. Colorado has been aptly termed "The Playground of America," and as the wonderful opportunities for motor-ing in Colorado become more generally known the truthfulness of this term will become a matter of common knowledge.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT

G. M. Lafferty Slips And Breaks A Leg At Edgewater Park.

G. M. Lafferty aged 25, a traveling man representing the Home Comfort Range of St. Louis, Mo., who is one of several representatives canvassing this county, sustained a serious accident while bathing at Edgewater Park Sunday afternoon. A large number of people were bathing at the time and Mr. Lafferty had swum across the river and was standing with several others on the north bank where there is a diving board. The bank was slippery from being wet and Mr. Lafferty lost his footing while standing on the bank and fell. In struggling to keep from slipping into the water he caught his leg under him in some way breaking both bones below the knee. A boat was sent across the river and he was brought over and sent to Hotel Latham, where he was stopping, and his injury was attended to by Dr. J. E. Stone.

KENNEDY NEWS.

Social Items and Other Mat- ters of Interest.

Kennedy, Ky., June 17.—Our town is enjoying some of the gayeties of life.

Miss Kathleen Garrott, oldest daughter of Esq. W. W. Garrott, and Mr. J. W. Pollard, of St. Bethlehem, will be married at the residence of her grandfather, Ed Garrott, on the 26th inst. Mrs. Rollow will give a miscellaneous entertainment in her honor on the 17th inst. Mrs. P. C. Sallee will give a linen shower sometime this week in her honor.

Miss Mary Baynham returned from Bowling Green Saturday where she had been attending school.

Miss Jessie Parker, a pretty and petite young lady who has been visiting Misses Nell and Louise Baynham, returned to her home in Nashville last Monday, to the regret of her many friends.

Miss Sarah Rollow returned home last week from Nashville, where she attended Wards' Seminary. She graduated with honors. Miss Erma Bacon, a handsome young lady from Missouri, came home with her and will remain for several days.

Miss Bertha Jones, who has been attending McLean College in Hopkinsville, is at home for the vacation.

Miss Loutha Jones returned home Friday from Nashville after visiting relatives.

Misses Louise and Nell Baynham are at home from Nashville, where they have been attending Boscobel school.

Mrs. T. J. Baynham and daughters, Nell and Louise, went to Hopkinsville Friday to witness the aviation meet, but it was postponed indefinitely.

The farmers are needing rain. They began cutting wheat Saturday. The crop is a very poor one.

POLL PARROTT

Turns In a Fire Alarm In Paducah.

Paducah, Ky., June 16.—"Fire, lady! fire, lady!" squaled a parrot, belonging to James McGuire, who conducts a grocery store on the Cairo road a short distance outside of the city limits of Paducah.

It was 8 o'clock Thursday morning and no one paid any attention to the "poll" who was swinging in his cage on the porch of the residence adjoining the grocery.

"Fire, lady! fire, lady!" the old parrot yelled again and again. When he didn't get any answer he screeched it out again. Residents for a block around heard the words repeated in all the keys of the rainbow.

After yelling the alarm time after time the old polly would rest and gather wind. Then a few more squawks would follow.

Such a prolonged cry could not fail to attract attention from some source and the bird's perseverance finally brought some one to the porch to see the cause of the nerve racking noise.

A small blaze was lapping out from beneath the eaves of the house where birds had built their nests. A match carried there by the birds or a spark from the flue was smouldering. The smoke had attracted the parrot's attention long before the fire had become dangerous.

A hasty alarm brought house companies Nos. 3 and 5 and truck company No. 4. A line of hose 1,900 feet long, the longest probably in the history of Paducah's fire department, was laid. A bucket brigade made up of nearby dwellers helped in the fight but the entire grocery store with its stock and the adjoining residence, were burned, causing a loss of about $1,500.

The old parrot, who had done its best to give the alarm in time to save the place, was let out of his cage and flew into a nearby tree. There he kept up his cry, filling up the bare spots with derisive laughter and loose tongued advice to the fire men and spectators.

Weather For The Week.

Washington, June 16.—An eastward storm, now over the Great Lakes, and another disturbance to cross the country, appearing in the Northwest about Thursday, were announced in the Weather Bureau's weekly forecast tonight. The prediction was for showers in the East and South the first part of the week, with rising pressure and cooler weather until the latter part of the week in the Middle West and the Eastern States, and fair the next few days over the Middle West and far West.

The next disturbance from the Northwest, prevailing over the Middle West at the close of the week, will be attended by local showers and thunderstorms and preceded by a general rise in temperature.

THRIFT IN WISE SPENDING HOW THE NATIONS TAKE TEA

American Housewife Might Learn Economics of French and Germans.

There is thrift in wise spending, as there is in wise saving. Under pressure of hard times, the heads of the household often have to sit down and consider where to retrench. We are lavish in this country by habit, and no doubt we shall always continue to be so. The small economics of the French and German housewife are seldom practiced by an American housekeeper, unless she has had the good fortune to be trained by an unusually sensible mother. When people seriously take up the matter of income and outgo, they ought to regard that which is of permanent value as worth more than that which is necessarily transient. For example, it is of minor importance whether an old overcoat or a last year's suit is made to do duty for another person. Neither boy nor girl is all the worse for self-denial so far as the fashion of clothing is in concern. Most of us think too much about what the neighbors say. In the effort to keep up with other people we use up time and strength to no advantage. What we spend on good literature for the home, on the bright and breezy magazine that week by week and month by month adds to the family stock of ideas and helps in the education of the children, is a good investment.—Christian Herald.

MAKING THE CLOTHES LAST

Suits and Shoes Need Attention and Rest and Will Profit Much Therefrom.

Clothes need rest as well as people. When I come home from my work daily I take off my business suit, brush and cleanse it and hang it away carefully on its proper hanger. My street shoes next receive attention. Afterward I put on a comfortable house gown and slippers. Both my clothes and I profit by the rest and change. On my weekly holidays I mend and press my clothes and do the necessary refurbishing.

I always follow three cast-iron rules concerning clothes:

Never throw away anything that can be made over.

Never lounge in good clothes.

Plan the entire outfit carefully before buying any part of it.

By buying late in the season I often get serviceable bargains.—F. K., in Harper's Bazar.

INOPPORTUNE.

He was arrested on the charge of robbing another of his watch and chain. It was claimed that he had thrown a bag over his victim's head, strangled and robbed him.

There was so little evidence, however, that the judge quickly said: "Discharged."

The prisoner stood still in the dock, amazed at being given his liberty so soon.

"You're discharged," repeated the judge. "You can go. You're free."

Still no move from the prisoner, who stood staring at the judge.

"Don't you understand? You have been acquitted. Get out," shouted the judge.

"Well," stammered the man, "do I have to give him back his watch and chain?"

OPPORTUNITIES.

A young man has always had to help make his opportunities, and he must do that today as ever. But young men fail more nowadays than they used to because they expect to reap almost as soon as they sow. That is the very great trouble with the young men of the present. They expect opportunities to come to them without application or proper shaping of things so that opportunities will drift their way. You have to keep your eyes open and catch hold of things; they'll not catch hold of you as a rule.—James J. Hill.

CAN'T "LAND" HIS STUFF.

"The prima donna has great faith in her press agent."

"That doesn't help her any."

"Why not?"

"Because no city editor has any faith in her press agent."

NOW YOU KNOW.

"What's the difference between a footpad and an idler?"

"I'm in a hurry. What's the difference?"

"The idler takes his time and the footpad takes your time."

In Some Countries the Serving of the Pleasant Drink is Much of a Ceremony.

In England, France and Germany tea is made in much the same pleasant way, but in other countries the method of enjoying the cup which cheers is a more picturesque ceremony.

In China, for example, a large, artistic cup is set in a brass or silver holder, and in this cup the tea is placed and covered with boiling water. A little saucer which just fits it is placed inside the cup to keep it in the steam and flavor of the tea. When it is drawn it is poured from the big cup into dainty little ones no bigger than an eggshell. The method followed in Japan is almost similar.

Tea making in Russia is a simple process involving merely the use of a samovar and a slice of lemon or of lime.

In Java tea is served in broad, flat cups and flavored with Batavia arrack, and in Formosa it is steeped with tea flowers and one or two orange flowers.

For their tea drinking the Uruguayans employ silver tubes, each of which has at the end a ball-like strainer, known as a bomba or bombilla.

In Martinique an aromatic tea is used, and a peculiar liquor made by the monks and by the old French housewives is added.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

IT DIDN'T LAST

"Well, you may have been last night, but you're all over it today."

SIMPLE EXPLANATIONS.

There are two things about San Juan which are to be found in almost every part of Spanish America where there are mountains or highlands. One is the statue of Columbus. The other is the castle of El Morro. Most people of the United States are more familiar with Morro castle in Havana. When they hear there is another Morro at Santiago in Cuba, and then another in Porto Rico they wonder what it means. The explanation is quite simple. These castles or citadels are located on projecting necks of high land which dominate the harbor entrances. El Morro in Spanish simply means "the snout."—Christian Herald.

AVIATOR'S PROPHECY.

A. V. Roe, one of the best-known aviators in England, makes the startling prophecy in the London Mirror that the hydroplane of the future will carry 1,000 passengers and revolutionize ocean travel. He says the speed obtainable will be enormous, exceeding 150 miles an hour, and, as the hydroplane will soon be as safe as any human invention can be, it will do away with seasickness. There is little doubt that ocean travelers would choose it in preference to a steamship. If Roe's startling prophecy is realized passengers from New York will be in London twenty-four hours after their start.

ADDITIONS TO BRITISH NAVY.

During the year 1911 forty warships were launched in the British navy. These include eight super-dreadnoughts, carrying 13.5 guns; two protected cruisers, two unarmored cruisers, twenty-three torpedo boat destroyers and five submarines. These ships aggregated 221,000 tons and will cost when complete over $86,000,000.

WARD HEADLEY

Princeton Attorney, Died in Louisville Saturday.

Ward Headley, the well-known attorney of Princeton, died in a Louisville hospital Saturday, aged 41 years. For several years he had been in failing health and was undergoing treatment in the infirmary. He was unmarried. His father in California, an uncle and two cousins in Louisville are his closest relatives. The body was taken to Madisonville for interment with the honor of the Elks' order.

As He Understood It. A Portobello (Scotland) schoolboy has produced the champion howler of the season. The passage for paraphrase was from Kingsley: "For men must work and women must weep, though storms be sudden and waters deep, and the harbor bar be moaning." "Men and women," said the youngster, "must keep on working though the inn at the harbor is groaning for its customers."

All is Vanity.

"This is a very fine dog, ma'am, and cheap at the price," said the dealer. "I've no doubt of it," she replied; "but I don't care to buy him until I'm sure he matches my new gowns."—Judge.

FIGHT OVER A WOMAN

And One Negro Uses Knife and Stick on Another.

Cecil Woosley, a negro boy working for the D. W. Kitchen Co. passed Peace Park Saturday night and saw Will Gordon and Jack Gray, two negro men, quarreling. He went out Campbell street and returned a few minutes later and found Gray lying senseless on the ground. He reported it to Officer Haydon at the substation near by and the unconscious man was brought to the depot and placed on the platform. In addition to a blow on the head that knocked him senseless, he had been slashed with a knife on his right side. The wound was a scratch, but bled freely. He soon recovered consciousness, about the time a train came in and Officer Haydon left him temporarily to look after the train and during the confusion Gray got up and disappeared, going to his home in "Son Domingo." No arrests have been made as yet.

The fight is said to have been about a woman.

Gray is not the house-mover of that name, but a much younger man of the same name.

WHIPPING AS FINE ART

Official Directions for Admin- istering Punishment in Korea.

The Official Gazette contains an administrative order giving minute directions as to the method of corporal punishment as meted out in the Korean peninsula.

The culprit shall lie on his stomach, his hands stretched out above his head and fastened. Straps are to be passed around the body and around the knee joints and arms, with the clothes so arranged as to expose the hips. The executioner shall stand with his whip at arm's length, the tip protruding three inches over the edge of the prisoner's body. The executioner's left hand shall be on his left side, palm upward, and right foot in advance and bearing the weight of the body.

The stroke is to be delivered perpendicularly, and the skin is under no circumstances to be broken. The punishment is to take place one hour after a meal, and the prisoner, if he requires refreshment during the operations, shall be given a drink of fresh water.

The notice has provided the Tokyo press with an opportunity for displaying its wit. It is suggested that Mr. Yamamoto, minister of finance, might obtain something toward covering the deficit in the budget by making the spectacle a public one at a charge of a penny a head for spectators.

SUES SLAYER OF HUSBAND.

Mrs. Will Bowles Files Action for $5,000 Against Harvey Southard.

Madisonville, Ky., June 16.—Mrs. Will Bowles, whose husband was killed recently at Hanson, has instituted suit against Harvey Southard, who killed her husband, for the sum of $5,000, alleging that the murder was done maliciously, intentionally, and not in self-defense. She further says she is deprived of his assistance, service and companionship.

ITALIANS BADLY WHIPPED

Turks and Arabs Killed Many and Routed All The Rest.

London, June 14.—Turkish troops and their Arab allies won a big victory Wednesday at Homs, according to a news agency correspondent in Tripoli, who says a great number of Italians were left dead on the field while the Turkish casualties were only fifty killed and 150 wounded. The battle lasted seven hours. The routed Italians left several cannon and quantities of small arms and stores on the field.

Several Journals That Are Published North of the Polar Circle Appear Only Once a Year.

There exist several journals that make their appearance only once a year. These are published within the confines of the north polar circle.

The Eskimo Bulletin, for example, is edited near Cape Prince of Wales, on Bering strait.

Here, in a village inhabited by Eskimos, the English missionaries have established a school, and as only one steamer lands at this place, and that only once a year, the news that it brings is consigned to a sheet of paper printed with the mimeograph.

Its size is 8x12 inches. The paper is very thick, and only one surface is used.

This Eskimo Bulletin in a sub-head claims to be the "only yearly paper." This, however, is an error, for there is an annual sheet published in Godthaab, Greenland, where a small printing office was established in 1862, whence news sheets and lithographic prints have been issued.

The journal in question is entitled Atnagadlinit, nalinginarmik Tusaruminassumik, that is, "Something for Reading; Accounts of All Sorts of Entertaining Subjects." The language is that of Greenland, a dialect of the Eskimos.—New York Herald.

BROWNING SHRINES ARE FEW

Warwick Crescent House Is Perhaps the Most Interesting of Them in London.

Pious Browning lovers who desire at this centenary time to make pilgrimage to London shrines will find few. One of the most interesting, perhaps, is 19 Warwick crescent, where "The Ring and the Book" and many of the later poems were written. Browning took the house on his return to England after the death of Mrs. Browning and remained there for five and twenty years. The place, as he declared, has a charm of its own, an element of the unusual denied to most London houses, for it faces the Grand Junction canal just at the point where it widens into a miniature lake with a tree-clad islet in the center. Just beyond No. 19, too, a bridge spans the canal, to which, as Browning used to tell the story, Byron once dragged the reluctant John Murray to show him the spot where a publisher had drowned himself.—London Chronicle.

ALBINO A PUZZLE.

The albino is still one of the puzzles of science. Beyond the knowledge that albinism is due to a lack of the normal pigment in skin and hair the physiologist and pathologist are about as much at sea regarding the real explanation of this freak of nature as they were a hundred years ago. As to the ultimate why of the problem—why the pigment is missing in the albino—there is nothing but a collection of unconvincing guesses. Regarding the statistics of albinism nothing satisfactory is obtainable except in two countries. In Italy the albinos number about one in every twenty thousand of the population, whereas in Norway the rate is twice as high, with one in every ten thousand.

ANCHORS FORE AND AFT.

A new steamship built for the West India trade has anchors both fore and aft, so that the danger of drifting on the rocks in certain exposed anchoring places may be lessened. Many wrecks have occurred through vessels being unable to hold their anchorage during a storm—notably the destruction of the United States warships Trenton and Vandalia in the hurricane at Apia some years ago.

USING DIRIGIBLES IN WAR

Italy Has Two in Tripoli and May Employ Them to Bombard Constantinople.

Italy, which was the first nation to make use of aeroplanes in actual warfare, is also the first to experiment with dirigibles under the same conditions.

The great boom in aeroplanes has for a time at least rather put dirigibles out of public favor. Besides, the mishaps that have wrecked almost all the Zeppelins built in Germany have tended to make them unpopular. For another thing dirigibles are too slow to satisfy the modern craze for speed.

But Italy has sent to Tripoli two new dirigibles of the rigid type, which have been put together and inflated. They are of over 5,000 cubic yards' capacity and has a speed of about 30 miles an hour.

Now rumor credits the Italian balloonists with the plan of establishing a balloon depot, from which dirigibles might make raids up the Dardanelles and drop bombs in Constantinople itself.

To do this from a great height would not be difficult, the mark is so large. It is said that the Italian authorities rely greatly upon the moral effect the dropping of these bombs would have.

SOUTH AFRICAN DIAMONDS.

The diamonds of South Africa are found in a peculiar basic rock called kimberlite, or "blue ground," which consists of chrysolite and various other minerals, and fills the pipes of ancient volcanoes. No diamonds have been obtained from the numerous foreign inclusions of igneous and sedimentary rocks that have been suspected of being the original matrix in which the carbon crystallized. The kimberlite has been much broken and altered and in the De Beers mine it has nearly seven per cent. of combined water at a depth of more than 2,000 feet. These evidences of explosions and disintegration, with the unusual amount of water and carbon at a great depth, have suggested to Dr. O. H. Derby a new theory of origin. The pipes of kimberlite, he believes, must have become saturated with liquids and gases while intensely heated. In such a mass the carbon—which would be present as carbon dioxide and probably in other gaseous forms—would be subjected to the conditions that experiments have shown may cause segregation and the forming of crystal FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.

Lord Roseberry in a London address on tuberculosis said that preventive measures had reduced the mortality from consumption in London by 33 per cent. between 1901 and 1909, and by 14 per cent. in England and Wales for the same period. Nearly forty thousand lives were saved which would have been lost under the average conditions of the decade of 1871-1880.

I Am a Bachelor

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

Amy glanced at the advertisement with distinct surprise. To her dismay she also felt a distinct tightening of the heart as she read the name at the end. The advertisement was as follows:

"I AM A BACHELOR."

"I am a man's man. I've had but very little to do with women in my life and I'm something over thirty. That means that I've devoted more time to men than have most men of my age. I know men thoroughly and I know what I want. So when I say that in my new military hair brushes and hard rubber combs I have articles that men particularly need, I know what I'm talking about. Every man needs my combs and brushes, and I want every man to have a set. Write to me today, men, for a particularly attractive proposition. Homer Stillwell, Room 55, Modewell Building."

It was the first time that Amy had seen Homer's name for a number of years, and as she finished reading the advertisement she was surprised and even dismayed to realize how strong the memories were which the mere reading of the name in cold type awakened within her.

It was decidedly disquieting to have him suddenly recalled to her in such a startling manner. To think that he was in the same city with her! She fairly trembled at the thought. Of course, he would not know that Cedarville was her home, still it was a cruel thrust of fate that of all the places in the country he should pick out this particular spot in which to do business.

Day after day Stillwell's advertisements fascinated Amy. They were so like the man she had known. It was like him to emphasize the fact that he was a man's man. It was like him to reiterate "I am a bachelor." She knew it was good advertising and indirectly she heard that it was bringing him a great amount of business.

It became a habit of Amy's to read Stillwell's advertisements in all the newspapers. Therefore she saw Grace Kartholl's advertisement the first day it appeared. It occupied a half page and was flamboyant as to type. It read as follows:

"I AM A SPINSTER."

"I am a woman's woman. I've had but very little to do with men in my life, and I'm something over thirty. That means that I know women thoroughly, that I've wasted no time trying to know men. Consequently I am particularly qualified to minister to woman's needs. I've got a comb and brush that women need. I know what I'm talking about. Women, write today, and let me tell you of my attractive proposition."

"GRACE KARTHOLL,
"342 Greene Street."

The similarity between Grace Kartholl's notice and that of Homer Stillwell was startling. Amy saw that this new advertiser was trading on the reputation Homer had made for himself, and Amy also realized that it would mean business to the Kartholl woman. But it hardly seemed just. It seemed like wronging Homer, and to Amy's surprise this fact aroused an indignation in her against the new advertiser.

The realization of this new feeling toward Homer—this desire to see that he got his rights—troubled Amy. Where was all her old anger against him? Where was her rage?

For several weeks the advertisements of Homer Stillwell and Grace Kartholl were the most striking features of the newspapers, according to Amy's notion. Each day the advertisers emphasized their respective declarations of being a bachelor and spinster.

From a business standpoint the unique advertisements could not have been better conceived, and the injection of personality into them gave the public an interest in the combs and hair brushes sold by the two advertisers that the buyers would never have had otherwise.

One memorable day both advertisements were missing. The next day there appeared a page that sent Amy into an extreme state of agitation. It was as follows:

"WE'RE MARRIED."

"The bachelor and spinster are now Mr. and Mrs. Did you miss our ads yesterday? We took a day off and had the pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church tie us in a knot. Now we're back to business, and remember this: Each of us knows just as much as before marriage, about his own sex. We've combined the manufacturing end of our respective businesses and consequently we are in a better position than ever before to give you men and you women individual, needed service. We've combined our stores, too—everything will hereafter be located at 342 Greene street."

"HOMER STILLWELL and
"MRS. STILLEWELL,
("Formerly Grace Kartholl)."

"The idea! The very idea!" Amy's exclamation was a gasp. "How could he? The last thing he'd think of would be that I'm right here in Cedarville with him. He probably thought I'd never hear of it. Oh, dear, what shall I do?"

After long pondering she finally decided to write Homer and after great labor she sent the following note:

"May I offer you my congratulations on your marriage to Miss Grace Kartholl? I have been reading your advertisements for some time, so am not surprised that you and the 'spinster' should have met."

The answer to her note was wholly unexpected. It came the next morning in the person of Homer himself. Amy was in her room on the second floor of her home, gazing out of the window to discover the postman, when she espied Homer striding toward the house. She recognized him instantly, although she had not seen him for a number of years.

She expected him to pass by. To her surprise he ran up the steps to the front door and rang the bell vigorously.

Amy told the maid to say that she was out, and then as quickly changed her mind and raced down the stairs before the maid could reach the bottom.

To Think He Was in the Same City With Her.

Homer's face was animated as he greeted her.

"It seems good to see you after such a long time." He shook her hand warmly.

Amy gasped. This was hardly the greeting she had expected.

"You got my note congratulating you on—on your marriage?"

"Yes. It was kind of you, but I haven't married Miss Kartholl."

"You haven't married Miss Kartholl?" Amy's heart pounded wildly. "That advertisement said you had."

"But I haven't, for the very simple reason that there isn't any Miss Kartholl. She is purely an imaginary personage formed in my own brain. I'm the only Grace Kartholl there is, and I invented her to sell women's brushes and combs after I saw what a hit my 'bachelor' advertising was making. I married her as the simplest way of explaining the consolidation of the two stores, for I found that I could run the two of them much more cheaply together than as two separate establishments."

A warm glow overspread Amy's body. She felt happy, inexpressibly happy.

"I rather thought," continued Homer, "that the 'we are married' ad might bring some word from you. You see I knew when I started in business that you lived here. I started here on the chance of seeing you again."

"I'm so glad," Amy declared.

Where They Play Today.

Evansville at Clarksville
Paducah at Hopkinsville
Henderson at Cairo.

Although Paducah was here yesterday to begin a series of three games, the wet grounds made it impossible to play.

With favorable conditions there will be a game this afternoon and perhaps a double header tomorrow.

Friday's Games.

At Henderson: By consistent all-around work and better batting Hopkinsville took the game from Henderson by a score of 4 to 1.

Score: R. H. E.
Hopkinsville..... 4 8 1
Henderson..... 1 6 4

Batteries—Yon and Smith; Wright and Peck.

AT CAIRO.

Except for the one extra score which gave the game to Cairo in the tenth inning, neither side could gain an advantage at any point.

Score: R. H. E.
Clarksville..... 2 7 4
Cairo..... 3 7 4

Batteries—Humphrey and Basham; Rojohn and Taylor.

AT EVANSVILLE.

The Yankees took another game from the Indians by better bunching of hits. Score: R. H. E.

Evansville..... 7 11 4
Paducah..... 5 11 2
Batteries—Gossage, Hoyt and Maver; Kuykendall and Osman.

Saturday's Games.

At Evansville, Paducah took the game from the locals.

Score: R. H. E.
Paducah..... 4 7 6
Evansville..... 3 6 1

Batteries: Nichols and Osman; Rose, Hoyt and Faulkinberry.

AT HENDERSON.

Henderson got close to Hopkinsville's second place in the percentage column by winning a well played game by a score of 6 to 1. "Home Run" Dowell distinguished himself by knocking the ball into right garden. Two other runs were made in this inning after two men were down. Catcher Smith of the visitors was struck by a pitched ball in the second and retired from the game.

Score: R. H. E.
Hopkinsville..... 1 5 1
Henderson..... 6 12 3
Batteries: Hawkins and Smith; Beck and Peck.

AT CAIRO.

Errors lost the game for Clarksville. Kinser celebrated his return to the game today with a triple and a double.

Score: R. H. E.
Clarksville..... 1 6 2
Cairo..... 2 6 2
Batteries: Coleman and Basham; Binkley and Taylor.

Sunday's Games.

AT EVANSVILLE.

Jess Given, needed as the Kitty's hard luck player, pitched against Paducah, his former teammates, and won handily. Phelps was hit hard and Mullen, who relieved him, was unable to stem the tide of bingles.

Score: R. H. E.
Evansville..... 8 12 2
Paducah..... 1 7 3

Batteries: Given and Faulkenberry; Phelps, Mullen and Osman.

AT HENDERSON.

Errors galore by the Hens gave the game to the Moguls, in spite of the locals' heavy hitting. The game drew a big crowd and was exciting.

Score: R. H. E.
Hopkinsville..... 6 6 3
Henderson..... 5 10 7
Batteries: Renner and Dayton, Ostendorf and Peck.

ENTHUSIASTIC START MADE

Bathing Resort Welcomed With Enthusiasm By The Public.

BOTH BATHING AND BOATING.

Will Become Popular Fads During The Summer Months.

The formal opening of Edgewater Park, the new bathing resort, Friday evening, attracted a good crowd who listened to brief speeches by Mayor Meacham, who told of the good work done by two Councils, one appropriating $2,600 and the other $1,250 to erect the bridge and dam and make the other improvements. He said it was not what he hoped to see it in the future but believed the young people would find it a source of much pleasure in bathing and boating. Alvan H. Clark, on behalf of the young people, made an appropriate speech of acceptance, both eloquent and humorous.

Afterwards Custodian Nelson announced that the privileges were free for the evening and many went up the river in boats or took a swim in the river.

The bath house and boats were patronized Saturday night and Sunday by large crowds of the young people of both sexes, a number of the young ladies having their first swim Saturday night.

The new resort is sure to prove very popular during the summer, the young people showing great enthusiasm in the water sports.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Held Sunday By Evergreen Lodge No. 38, Knights of Pythias.

The annual memorial exercises of Evergreen Lodge No. 38, K. of P. were observed Sunday. The Lodge attended services in a body at the Methodist Church and listened to an appropriate sermon by Rev. A. R. Kasey.

After a music program G. H. Champlin opened the Lodge service and L. H. Davis called the roll of the 83 deceased members. Rev. Chas. L. Nourse offered prayer and Mrs. Frank H. Mason sang a solo. Following the sermon Messrs Clark, Foster, Barnett and Roper gave a vocal quartette.
